

Penturners.org Quick Reference

Hello, Welcome and Thanks for joining the International Association of Penturners (IAP).

We apologize for any delay in approving your membership. Each registration is evaluated by the administrator to make sure a real person is joining, and not some spambot or scammer.

We take great pride in keeping the good guys protected by keeping the bad guys out. As a member you will not see advertisements on our home page You've just joined the best pen making organization and community on the Internet.

If you're a new pen maker, we promise you'll learn a lot and improve your skills. If you're a seasoned pen maker, we hope you'll share your knowledge and experience with us. Regardless of your pen making history and goals, we promise you'll make new friends and enjoy the camaraderie of our community.

When you visit our site, you should start out at the IAP Home page <http://www.penturners.org/>. We post announcements there, you'll see the most recent threads, the featured photo, and new articles. Please stop by our Introductions forum and say hello.

This quick reference is intended to point out some of the site's main features and get you started enjoying all of our great information and discussions.
